WANTED—A woman cook, and girl for dishwasher at the Star Restaurant, in first block west of depot.

The Old Colonial Social at Mrs. Nail's beautiful home last night was a success in dollars and cents, and in amusement. The colonial dames were resplendent in quaint costumes and powdered hair. The male contingent of "colonial times" was filled by Dr. Williams whose costume was made of the stars and stripes, but filled the bill in his usual happy and enlightening way. A luncheon of pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee were served. Music, some quaint old services, and general conversation, made up the amusements until about eleven when the parlor was cleared and the young people allowed to dance.

The Star Restaurant will serve coffee and lunch from 7 to 10 p. m. Monday, November 12th to all free of any charge. Everybody invited.

Just arrived car Hunter's cream flour at W. W. Horne's.

Arch Gamel met with another of his occasional accidents the other day, in having his horse fall with him, and then roll over on him. This time his foot caught in the stirrup. He held on the horse and it began to look serious. He was pulling the horse in a circle, when little Arch, his little boy of ten years rode his pony round and secured the other side of the rein and brought the horse to a stand. Assistance had to be called to get the foot from the stirrup, Arch being hurt too bad to do so himself.

Look out for the "Silver Bow."
